KEY RISKS

To the Club is when	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> you don't know what the executive are making decisions on. you are complacent and let the executive take control &/or do everything you don't monitor- and/or ensure no individual or specific cluster of individuals have control or undue influence you don't know or implement the tasks of your position within the timeframes allocated you don't know the legal requirements of the club (constitution, leases, rules, or funding obligations) you work in isolation attempt to do everything on their own and you don't delegate it is worse off, because of the way you and other members of the team manage decisions you don't consider the impact your decisions may have on the future existence of the club you don't communicate effectively with each other or with club members you operate to further your own personnel agenda you are not respectful to other members of committee, volunteers or members
To club performance is when	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> you don't recognise when you need help you don't understand the important of auditing and tracking performance (financial, club, on field development). you don't ensure that the administration and management needs are appropriately financed &/or supported. you don't recognise, reward and support club volunteers, for their contribution
To the YOU when	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> you are set up for failure because the members or your own expectations are too high you are placed in situations where you are required to make decisions on your own members refuse to provide the resources required to administer the club you are Burn out - To prevent burn out, ensure your duties are realistic - the club must "spread" & you must "delegate" responsibility... if you do too much and don't delegate you burn out and it will difficult to find another volunteer and all your hard work will be lost
